My Profile.

Hey i'm Dan and as long as I can remember I have drawn, painted and crafted. I studied Digital Arts at LCC in London and then have furthered my own design paths through founding an online music magazine (in-reach.co.uk) self learning and working at large companies in the gaming industry.

My aim is to create, visualise and communicate my ideas with the desire to produce clean designs for ambitious forward thinking brands. I can fit seamlessly into large or small teams having a great working relationship with my colleagues. Last but not least, you guessed it! I'm a creative and I really really love it!

<This is/> My Work Experience

August 2019 - Current

Digital Designer

FSB Tech, London

FSB Tech provides fully managed, enterprise and retail solutions for companies wanting to provide sportsbook and casino services. I myself drive the marketing for FSB and their clients (blacktype, Jennings and more). This includes creating a wide range of media including video, print and web assets.

Nov 2017 - Nov 2018

UI Designer

Mojito Media, London

I was involved in many aspects of design at Mojito Media including website design, branding, UX and UI layouts. I was also asked to brainstorm new ideas and concepts for their brand overhaul where I used 3D editing software such as Blender and Cinema 4D.

Nov 2013 - Nov 2017

Mid-Weight Designer

Betway Group, London

Betway was a great way to start my design career, based within a large design team regularly having stand-up / interactive critiquing sessions which not only bolstered my confidence but also helped learn many new design skills, including motion design and print work.

I also worked as the main designer for the Hippodrome Casino in London, creating their land based advertising.
